National Steel dedicates ladle metallurgy facility

GRANITE CITY — National Steel Corp. on Thursday dedicated a new $16 million ladle metallurgy facility at its Granite City Division, completing another step in the company's plan to become a world-class steelmaker.

The facility will produce high-quality steels for critical customer applications that require exacting chemistries, low-sulfur content, and superior cleanliness, weldability and formability. It has a rated capacity of two million tons of steel a year.

KOKICHI HAGIWARA, National's president, said the ladle metallurgy station is another example of the company's philosophical and capital commitment to quality.

"National has the potential to become a world-class steel producer," said Hagiwara. "Today's dedication of our new ladle metallurgy station is one more step toward fulfilling that goal."

Hagiwara added that the new station is part of National Steel's aggressive five-year, $1.2 billion capital expenditure program.

OTHER MAJOR projects in the plan include: the first 72-inch-wide electrogalvanizing line in America, which began operating last December at the Great Lakes Steel in Detroit; a new continuous caster, the company's third, which will bring National's percentage of cast

Union members denied jobs by new cable TV company

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — Four union employees lost their jobs following Cencom Cable Associates Inc.'s buyout of South Western Cable TV Ltd. on Dec. 1.

Harry Babcock, executive vice president for the St. Louis-based cable company, said Cencom is not anti-union, but officials of the Communication Workers of America strongly disagree.

"Cencom is one of the most anti-union companies that I have seen in a long time," said Bill Harwell, District 6 assistant administrator.

HARWELL SAID Cencom is a small cable company, but, "in ratio and proportion, they are the most vicious."

Babcock said the four union employees were not hired by Cencom because "We made a determination of which ones we wanted and which ones wouldn't fit in."

He added, "It had nothing to do with whether or not they were union."

The company kept 10 of the 14 union employees, but does not recognize CWA's contract with South Western, Babcock said. The company employs 36 persons in the Metro-East.

PRIOR TO BUYING South Western Cable, Cencom verbally agreed to negotiate with the union, said Jim Rachel, president of CWA

Local 6217. He said their refusal to negotiate shows they are against unions.

"Since the union has not contacted us at all, I'm really at a loss as to why they would make those comments," Babcock said.

According to a report published in the Collinsville Herald-Journal, Frank Webb, a Cencom vice president, said at the Sept. 3 Maryville Village Board meeting that the union contract would lapse, but the firm would negotiate a new contract and all employees would probably keep their jobs.

"To my knowledge, we have not been contacted (by CWA), at least in a formal way," Babcock said. There

Lake's level high

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Horseshoe Lake is at a "very high" level, said a longtime resident at the lake, Bill Nichols. Nichols is warning that the level of the lake could lead to flooding and property damage here should heavy rains occur in the next few days.

He is also urging the Metro East Sanitary District to decrease the level by opening two floodgates.

Nichols, who gauges the lake level daily, said he no longer can measure the lake because the level is too high.

"THE LEVEL is so high, that the gauge is under water. We've got a constant rise. It's up very high right now," Nichols said.

Nichols said he thinks the MESD

"The level is so high that the gauge is under water."

should immediately lower the level by opening two, 36-inch MESD gates at the lake.

"If they don't drop it immediately, brother, the people are going to be in trouble," said Nichols.

Nichols, who said he has lived in the area for most of 63 years and knows the lake "from A to Z," said ground surrounding the lake has become waterlogged and cannot absorb much more water.

HE SAID IF the saturation expands into Granite City and Nameoki Township, sewer lines could be damaged and some flooding could occur.

"You'll have sewer breaks here shortly — you watch," he said.

MESD executive director Shang Greathouse said Nichols' concerns were unjustified.

Greathouse said there is no flooding danger and to open the gates now would cost the district unnecessarily.

GREATHOUSE SAID he determines when to open the gates by how high the Mississippi River flood stage is and not how high the lake is. When river stages are at 19.5 feet, the pumps in the Cahokia Canal, which catches water released from the gates, are turned on; the gates

Bruce opposes defender

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — A former over-the-road truck driver is acting as an attorney for accused double-murderer Jack G. Bruce.

"This is the first time I've ever done anything like this," said Bruce's friend, Glena Hermann, 29, 744 Guth St., Mitchell.

Bruce gave Hermann the power of attorney to do legal work for him because he does not want a public defender.

"I don't want them and they don't want me," Bruce told the Press-Record-Journal Thursday. When the case gets to trial, he said he will defend himself.

Bruce should have an attorney, but the law probably would allow him to defend himself, said Tyler Bateman, Madison County assistant public defender.

"I think a person has a right to defend himself," Bateman said.

The public defender's office could ask to be relieved from the case if Bruce can afford to hire an attorney, Bateman said.

Bruce said his house may be worth $80,000, but he doesn't want a public or private attorney.

When directed by Associate Judge Charles Romani to handle the case, Bateman said the public defender's

Fund drive at $15,873

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Several hours before Friday's deadline was reached to submit requests for Christmas assistance, a total of 1,077 individual applications had been accepted at the Salvation Army Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St.

The 1,077 figure may be slightly misleading; an application is submitted by the head of a household and usually represents several other family members.

AVERY SCHERMER, 1986 Salvation Army "Tree of Lights" chairman, said Thursday that a total of $15,873 in contributions and pledges has been received.

This year's goal is $85,000 and Christmas is drawing ever closer.

The holiday assistance program traditionally provides food baskets, clothing and other Christmas gifts for needy area families.

THE SALVATION ARMY's symbolic tree for the community's 1986 fund campaign was decorated with colored lights on Thursday.

Goal surpassed

By Bill Winter
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Another drive success was announced Friday by jubilant United Way leaders. With $751,000 sought, receipts have reached $753,203.

"The efforts of Granite City High School National Honor Society students put us over the top," General Campaign Chairman Don Shaffner said. "They collected more than $1,200 at area businesses last weekend."

IT WAS THE MOST ambitious goal ever, Shaffner said, adding he is delighted that the Tri-Cities Area United Way was able to raise more than three-quarters of a million dollars.

Eighteen community service agencies are scheduled to be partly funded in 1987 by TCAUW.

"Last year's campaign raised a record $702,000. We knew $751,000 would be a difficult amount to achieve," Shaffner said.

At the final public report meeting in November, contributions and pledges equaled 95 percent of the goal. It was decided to hold no more formal meetings but to continue solicitations until victory had been attained.

"THE VOLUNTEERS kept their promise," Janet Quanton, TCAUW executive director, said.

"One test of an organization is how devoted people are to it. Our United Way volunteers and our community should be proud of reaching this goal. It's a testimonial to the people and to the worthiness of the United Way cause."

"The past three campaigns have been very successful. Contributions have increased from $583,000 in 1983 to $647,000, to $702,000, and to more than $753,000 today, a 28 percent increase in just three years.

"THIS ENABLES US to help support three additional agencies and to fund many innovative programs through venture grants; 18 human service agencies will receive allocations during 1987 from the proceeds of the latest campaign."

Better than equal

"There are a billion black people in the world and they can't build one Honda."

The author of that indictment is a black man — Phillip Jackson — a minority businessman.

He was alluding to the recent statement by Japan's Prime Minister Nakasone that the literacy level of American minorities is holding the United States back.

Nakasone was jumped by minority spokesmen in the United States, some threatening to boycott Japanese products.

And what Jackson is saying is that American blacks are not going to give up what they cannot themselves produce — Sony radios and Panasonic TVs.

He says every young black adult dreams of owning a Mazda RX-7 or a Datsun 300 ZX — both made in Japan.

So a boycott would be self-defeating.

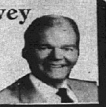

Phillip Jackson is not alone among black leaders who are now delivering top-sergeant admonitions to their peers.

Equal rights, for the most part, have been won. But there is something more desirable than equality — and more elusive — next comes the thrilling, rewarding realization of "excellence."

Jesse Jackson has been tough-talking to black school-agers, urging them away from drugs and illiteracy and dependence — challenging them to improve themselves, improve their skills, learn to overproduce and overachieve.

Paul Harvey News

By Paul Harvey
C.A. Times Syndicate

Phillip Jackson says, "Blacks can boycott Hondas for the next 500 years and not benefit themselves. The way to benefit themselves is to develop the technical expertise, engineering skills and manufacturing capability to 'build a Honda' for themselves."

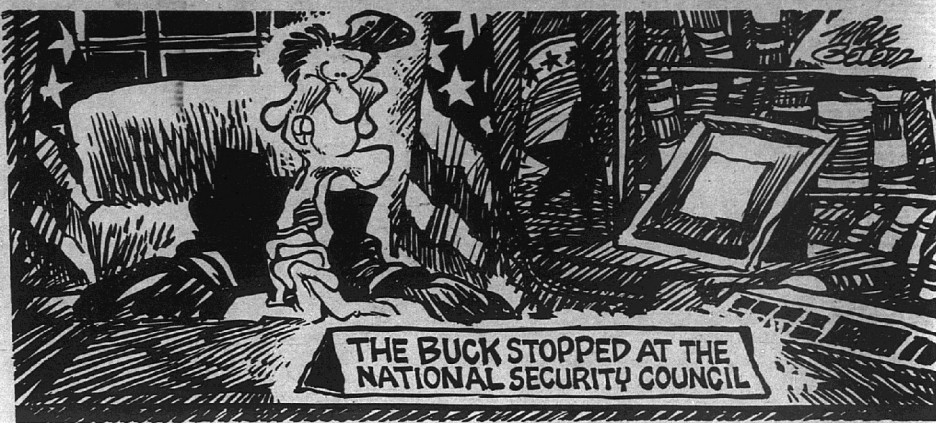

And until they do, Japan will still be the longest industrial and technical nation in the world and "we will still be listening to our ghetto blasters" made by Sony.

Minorities in the United States, one after another — Irish, Italian, Jewish, Polish, Greek, others — have risen to the challenge of majority domination until they themselves have dominated.

This is the challenge now set forth by such black leaders as Jackson and economist Walter Williams.

The Census Bureau finds blacks, despite recent gains, still far down the economic ladder — with the median worth of a white family 12 times that of a black family.

Phillip Jackson says Nakasone could become a hero for the minorities he slandered "If he motivates us to learn more, do more, be more than we are."

Embassy ignores budget crunch

WASHINGTON — There's always somebody who doesn't get the word. Even as the State Department was beset by Gramm-Rudman budget cuts while trying to improve anti-terrorism security embassies in the world's hot spots, the American ambassador in Trinidad was ordering crystal chandeliers, a new tennis court and renovations to his official residence.

The envoy, Sheldon Kryz, asked for an estimated $150,000 worth of improvements for this pied-a-terre in Port-of-Spain, the sun-kissed capital of Trinidad and Tobago. While his requests were winging their way to Washington, the department was preparing to shut down consulates in Bremen, Rotterdam, Salvador da Bahia (Brazil), Seville, Trieste and Winnipeg to save money.

Congress topped $138 million from the State Department's salaries and expenses budget, and $887 million from proposed security expenditures. But word of the budgetary crisis apparently was floated in a bottle down to the southernmost U.S. diplomatic station in the Caribbean.

Our associate Stewart Harris has seen some of Ambassador Kryz's cables and requisitions. Here are a few of the proposals the envoy sent to Washington from his tropical outpost during the cost-cutting crunch of the past year:

Construction of a tennis court and paving of the ambassadorial parking lot: $40,000.

— Retiling, scraping and repainting of the swimming pool: $7,000.

— Installation of central air conditioner for the residence: $20,130. Cables explained that the existing window units repeatedly broke down.

— Renovation of the master bedroom and bathroom, plus another bathroom: $20,000. The master bathroom "can only accommodate one person at a time," a cable pointed out.

— Remodeling of guest bedroom and bathroom, repair or replacement of plumbing and electrical fixtures: $10,000.

The new tennis court, according to one cable, would improve post morale "and provide a healthy outlet" for embassy employees. Private tennis clubs are not only expensive, the cable explained, but have standards of athletic prowess that not all embassy personnel could meet. The only public court "is located in a high-crime area," the cable asserted.

In a telephone interview, Kryz told us some of the improvements to the 29-year-old residence were approved long before he took over in August 1985. He said that much of the furniture is 12 years old and the floors are covered with "a cacophony of carpets." In fact, he said, the only item that could be considered extravagant was the $2,500 chandelier for the dining room.

In the end, the State Department authorized only $17,000 for the furnishings, $5,000 for a new roof and gutters and $57,000 for the air-conditioning and bathroom work. Not included in the ambassador's requests was the standard-issue piano flown down to the islands, or the $20,430 motor-plated Opel Senator shipped from Europe as the ambassador's limousine.

Greathouse running MESD

To the editor: Walter "Shang" Greathouse, executive director of the Metro East Sanitary District (MESD), is one community servant earning our respect.

Under his direction, MESD has operated within its budget. Excesses and exorbitant-cost programs have been eliminated.

Thorough prosecution of delinquent-rate payers has been instituted, and the MESD property tax based upon assessed valuation, decreased last year and is one of the lowest taxes in this area.

His untiring effort and watchdog eye have brought MESD financial responsibility, and earned Shang the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's Award for Outstanding Achievement in Local Government earlier this year.

This taxpayer is proud to sign my name, in recognition of Shang's accomplishments.

Must the messenger bring bad news?

"None love the messenger who brings bad news."

Sophocles Sophocles

Following the Iranian arms scandal, the press is having a heyday that hasn't been matched since Watergate.

Revelations of cloak-and-dagger dealings linking Middle Eastern nations to the Contras in our nation's backyard have dominated headlines for weeks and can be expected to continue, all of which will end in only one certain place — criticism of the press.

During Watergate, criticism of the press came from the highest source, President Richard Nixon, who said in October 1973, "I have never heard even such outrageous, vicious, distorted reporting in 27 years of public life."

Perhaps Hitler was right when he said the people "will more easily be victims to a great lie than a small one." The public certainly could not have been blamed for wanting to believe Nixon and, though it later came to realize his guilt in the Watergate affair, it seems the seeds of resentment against the press that were so strongly rooted in his administration continue to be productive.

By 1980, the public's perception of the press, for various reasons, was at a low ebb and falling. George Gallup Jr. reported, "The press in America is operating in an environment that is increasingly indifferent — and to some extent, hostile — to the cause of a free press... The survey shows Americans leaning heavily, 2 to 1, to the view that present curbs on the press are not strict enough."

A few members of the national press may be gloating because the Iranian arms scandal has come to light, but many more, I am inclined to believe, are not seeking to gain glory from Reagan's misery.

Those journalists who bring professionalism to their work understand their massive responsibility of being "government's watchdogs" and that they must, when the facts present themselves, carry through with the work of exposing wrongdoing even at the national level. They realize that to ignore wrongdoing would be to agree to it and to violate the public's sacred trust. The best journalists report wrongdoing because they must, not because they enjoy it.

Like Nixon before him, Reagan started out with an attack on the press when the Iranian scandal was reported. He essentially said reporting on the situations would cause hostages to continue to be held in Lebanon. I imagine many embraced this logic.

Whether Reagan weathers the gathering storm is inconsequential in terms of what the press can possibly expect in the aftermath. Many will second-guess the reporting, a few may hail it, and most may wish it had never occurred and resent that it did.

Comparing great things to small will bring the point home to Granite City, where last week criticism was laid at the newspaper's door. Among several other allegations, the newspaper was blamed by 2nd

Media Mandarin

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive Editor

Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer because Superintendent Max Redmond left District 9. Though Redmond personally criticized the district's patronage hiring practices, we were blamed for having driven a wedge between Redmond and the board. The fact that Redmond himself disagrees is not important. What is important is that it sounds reasonable and, because it does, there are those who will want to believe it.

From a journalist's viewpoint, such criticism is ludicrous. Reporting on problems is something all journalists must do, absolutely.

Understandably, politicians don't like it. But in this country politicians do not rule, they serve, and so long as they are public servants their work will be scrutinized by the public of which this newspaper is a vital part.

And the newspaper, in its turn, will be second-guessed.

There is no relief from such criticism of the press in Granite City or at the national level, but the journalist's role is not to carry fear. He must hold up the mirror to reflect events, showing the public what it sometimes doesn't desire to see, and knowing all the while that "none love the messenger who brings bad news."

darkroom work. I must really be slipping.

The Christmas tree in the newsroom has already been put up and decorated so that's one less excuse for me to stop writing.

Procrastination can be a terrible affliction, though.

Putting off getting out of bed in the morning can really put a crunch on breakfast and other necessities before rushing off to work.

Of course, I guess a photographer can't really be late for work since we're always looking for a great picture to take.

Then there is putting off starting work in the morning before getting that first cup of coffee to start the day off right. But since I quit drinking coffee about six months ago, I don't have that excuse anymore.

Sometimes I would do practically anything, short of self-inflicted bodily harm, to put off several of my weekly assignments here at the newspaper.

Unfortunately, I know they must be done, so I always break down and do them at the last possible minute. Why do they annoy me?

Just like this column, I could have written it a day or two ago, or even a week ago, but I have put it off to the very last minute Friday afternoon.

I've still got six minutes until deadline and I'm almost through.

I think I'll take a break and have a soda. Or maybe I'll wander around the building to see what everyone else is doing while waiting for the clock to tick the last minutes off before quitting time.

Steelworker saddened

To the editor: Concerning 22,000 United Steelworkers of America at USX (U.S. Steel):

It is with a heavy heart that I write this letter. Today we look up a collection for those poor people.

It hurts very, very much to see people pass the bucket and not donate. But thank God we are not all that way. These are our union brothers and sisters. Many, many thanks to the sincere donors.

These people have been locked out by USX for over 120 days; what will they tell their families these holidays?

I hope and pray that the readers of this paper will please make a donation. Any donation that you feel you can afford, large or small, will be appreciated in their time of great need.

Remember, this very same thing can happen any day at National Steel or any place else. Thank you and God bless you.

Autumn memories

LIKE A BIRD in a nest, this child sits amid crispy maple leaves, perhaps waiting for his next meal while enjoying the last days of warmth before the onset of winter. The

Shop and mail early, GC postmaster urges

The U.S. Postal Service is cooperating with the business community of the Metro East area in urging people to shop early and mail early for the holidays.

Granite City Postmaster Larry Wood asks holiday shoppers to mail early this year. He asks them to make certain that mail is addressed correctly (including Zip Code) and that packages are wrapped correctly so that cards and parcels reach their destination in plenty of time for the holidays.

"Normally, the St. Louis Division, which includes the City of Granite City, handles about 6.7 million pieces of mail a day — including cards, letters and packages.

"But during the holiday season, volume goes up to about 8 million pieces," the postmaster said. "We in the Postal Service take pride in carrying your messages of love and joy. Mailing early helps us deliver the messages on time."

"The key to successful holiday mailing is to mail early and correctly."

Wood says that includes planning now for gifts that must travel long distances by Christmas.

"Many overseas mailing dates — including those for the armed forces stationed overseas — occur this month. Mailers can get specific information on the international dates by calling 877-0700," Wood said.

"Customers should also take care to write eligible ZIP Coded addresses for both the address and the return address."

"The use of ZIP Codes, following the name of the particular city and state, aids us in processing the mail."

"Last year, our customers helped us tremendously. They mailed early in the season and early in the day. We hope they will cooperate with us again this year, so we both will have an enjoyable holiday mailing season."

The rice, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour are in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one.

All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis by ticket number received at the door.

TO BE ELIGIBLE to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the commodities.

They must be the head of a household or the spouse, have their Social Security number, and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the guidelines.

Recipients are to bring some proof of residency other than a driver license or voter registration card.

AN UNPAID utility bill, a property tax statement, a current rent receipt with the address or a public aid card or medical card is adequate, officials said.

Monthly income guidelines are as follows: one-person family, $58; two in the family, $74; three persons, $90; four persons, $116; five persons, $132; six persons, $153; seven persons, $173; eight persons, $192; and $196 for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will start its distribution at 8 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 18.

THE SITE will be the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697a N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 10, at Engelbert Hall, 14th Street and Washington Avenue.

Madison Township officials said commodities will be given only at the hall, and recipients must present a signed affidavit before receiving the commodities.

THE SALVATION ARMY, 3007 E. 23rd St., will conduct its distribution of surplus food to Granite City Township residents Wednesday, Dec. 10. Recipients will only be allowed to pick up commodities for themselves.

The scheduled starting time is 9 a.m.

The Salvation Army is also in need of grocery sacks to bag commodities for recipients.

Officials are reminding recipients that money should not be given to children younger than 18 months of age.

There is no discrimination against groups of any kind in the food distribution program.

Dedication at new GC Mission

Dedication services will take place at 7 p.m. Sunday (today) at the new Granite City Mission, located at 1235 19th St.

Formerly known as the Gospel Mission, or the "Mission Behind the Mill," the original mission was founded by the late Bethel Davis and was located for 65 years on E. 20th Street.

Mrs. Davis served as mission superintendent for more than a half-century.

For the past 2½ years, members of the non-denominational congregation met at the Tri-City Area YMCA until moving to the 19th Street property last month.

Dr. George A. Rosenthal of Belleville, longtime guest minister at the Gospel Mission, will preach at the dedication services.

Special music will be provided and photographs of the occasion will be taken by Calvin Lazenby. The public is invited to attend.

$1.5 million warehouse plan

By Donna Kimbro

Staff writer

MADISON — John Dutko, city building inspector, reported Tuesday night that 29 permits were issued in the past two weeks, including a $1½ million construction permit for the Lanter Co.

A warehouse complex for Lanter will be located at 1200 Collinsville Ave. Ralph Korte will be the general contractor.

Judsonman William Gushleff asked Dutko about a house at 1711 Market St. Its deteriorating state is cited in complaints from neighbors. Dutko said there is a problem of determining ownership, when this point is clarified, steps will be taken to force improvements.

CAMPBELL'S Ambulance Service, Robbie Robbins told the council, officially took over its Madison ambulance duties on Dec. 1.

Although the office area of its Madison headquarters is not completely renovated, ambulance calls are being accepted. Those who need the ambulance service are being advised to call 876-4411.

Prior to the contract with Campbell, the city provided ambulance service.

ALTHOUGH the Board of Zoning Appeals voted to grant a special use permit to Steve Moorman of Troy, Ill., to operate an auto repair business at 1836 Sixth St., the council unanimously voted against the recommendation.

Gushleff and Don Wilson, whose ward includes the proposed location, asked the council to vote against the permit.

They said families living near the address objected to the proposal, believing it would be a detriment to the neighborhood, would cause traffic problems and would attract more people to the area.

THE COUNCIL'S action prevents establishment of the proposed auto repair business.

Mayor John Bellcoff asked for and was given permission to instruct the city comptroller to advertise for bids to provide a new telephone system for city offices.

Honored

SPECIAL GUESTS of Elks Lodge 1083 were honored at Old Timers Night, held at the lodge. Fifty-year pins were given to honorees. Also honored was Bryan Compton, who served as exalted ruler in 1924-25. From the left are Hughes Blake, Exalted Ruler Louis Zozoff and Fred Schuman.

Yule tree growers booklet available

A complete listing of Illinois Christmas tree growers is now available free of charge to interested persons, according to Michael B. Witte, Department of Conservation director.

Persons may request single copies by writing the Department of Conservation, Division of Forest Resources, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706, or by phoning the Forest Resources Division at 1-217-782-2361.

The publication lists Christmas tree growers from throughout Illinois, and provides information about available species, the availability of roping and wreaths, and other information.

"Illinois-grown Christmas trees are freshly cut, and therefore safer to have in the home than trees that may have been cut weeks ago and trucked in from out of state," Witte said. "This is a handy guide to help families find fresh-cut trees in any area of the state."

Q. Do you have any serious comments about interest during the Holiday Season and for the coming year?

A. Yes. We'd like to take this time to offer a few comments about prime interest. Not the Prime Interest rate — but Prime Interest. Our Prime Interest... for you, your family and your loved ones, and for our community, as a whole. We've thoroughly enjoyed visiting with you each week and our desire is that through our answers to your questions, you may understand, just a little bit better, how the economy works, and that we may have helped with a specific problem or have given you a tip that will help your money go a little farther. We also hope you've gotten to know us better. We'll continue these weekly visits with you in the coming year. But for now, our Prime Interest is that you and yours enjoy a safe, healthy, happy and prosperous new year. Our Prime Interest is not centered in terms of percentages, but rather, in terms of friendship and good will, this season and every season.

WGNU radio station celebrates 25th year

Twenty-five years ago, on Dec. 1, 1961, the WGNU Radio Station began broadcasting and has continued daily since that time under the guidance of Chuck Norman.

The only other person who started with the Granite City station at its inception and is still active there is Shirley Adams.

Originally, Russ Benson and Bob Baker (Albert Stevens) also were heard on the airwaves at the radio station but later retired.

The first day's operation began at 4 a.m. with the song, "What's New," reminiscent of the call letters of WGNU. There were many recordings of that song by various vocalists and instrumental groups, and the "What's New" selections were played throughout the day.

Mrs. Adams, who has invited Santa Claus to the radio station to talk with area children for the past seven years, will continue that program again this year.

She said children are invited to call 431-7727 each Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. to speak with Santa.

Tax rebate deadline is approaching

Time is running out for senior citizens and disabled persons who want a rebate on their 1985 property taxes.

The deadline for applying for Circuit Breaker tax relief is Dec. 31, 1986.

To be eligible, a person must be an Illinois citizen at least 65 years old or totally disabled, with a household income of less than $14,000. Part-year grants are available to persons who turn 65 during 1986; 1985 real estate taxes are paid in 1986.

"Circuit Breaker is a very important program for Illinois senior and disabled citizens," said J. Thomas Johnson, director of the Department of Revenue. "Since this is a cash-in-the-pocket kind of tax relief, it's certainly to every eligible person's advantage to apply before Dec. 31."

Circuit Breaker is an annual program. Eligible persons may apply once each year; the application period runs from Jan 1 through Dec 31 each year.

A property owner or renter applying for Circuit Breaker in 1986 is actually applying for relief from property taxes or rent paid in 1985, Johnson said.

Circuit Breaker consists of two kinds of cash tax relief: one for property taxes, which is available to any eligible senior or disabled person whose residence is subject to property taxes, whether they own their homes, rent or live in nursing homes; and one for general taxes, which is available to every eligible applicant.

The property tax grant is based on household income and the amount of property taxes paid, or the amount of rent, or nursing home fees. The grant amount may be as high as $700; the average property tax grant paid so far this year is $264.

The "additional grant," which is for general tax relief, is a flat $80. This means every full-year Circuit Breaker recipient can receive at least $80 in tax relief.

Persons who have heart disease, arthritis or diabetes may choose to exchange their $80 grant for a plastic Pharmaceutical Assistance card. The card can be used to buy eligible medicine for those diseases at no cost for 12 months. The application for pharmaceutical aid is included on the regular Circuit Breaker form.

More than 340,553 persons have already received Circuit Breaker grants totaling more than $86.4 million in 1986.

Applications are available at any Department of Revenue district office, at Illinois Department on Aging offices, at area legislators' offices and at various senior citizen centers.

Applications and assistance are also available by calling the Department of Revenue at 1-817-782-8336 or toll-free at 1-800-732-8866; by calling the Lt. Governor's Senior Action Centers at 1-800-252-6565; or by calling the Disabled Individuals Assistance Line (DIAL) at 1-800-223-3425.

Some toys banned due to lead paint

Deluxe Volttron Lion robot toys and Miniature Volttron Lion Robot toys, manufactured in Taiwan for Bandai Co. and distributed by Matchbook Toys (USA), have been banned by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

Dr. Bernard J. Turnock, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said the toys represent a potential lead-paint hazard to children, who may ingest the paint from certain parts of the toys.

"Certain paints on the metal parts of both sizes of Volttron Lions contain levels of lead which are higher than allowed by law," Turnock said.

More than 300,000 complete sets and more than 420,000 pieces of the Deluxe Volttron Lions and 866,000 Miniature Volttron Lions have been sold nationwide since July 1985. The Deluxe set sold for $80 to $90 and the Miniature set sold for $12 to $15.

A Deluxe set consists of five separate lions, each a different color, which can be connected to form a complete robot figure about 11 inches in height.

The Miniature Volttron Lions, which are about six inches in height, resemble the Deluxe version but the body parts are not designed to separate.

"Although there have been no reports of lead poisoning associated with these toys, I urge consumers to remove the toys from use immediately and to call a toll-free number to obtain a replacement," Turnock said.

The telephone number to call is 1-800-445-8867.

Some Volttron Lions models have not been banned by CPSC because they do not contain high levels of lead.

Those not banned are: all Volttron Miniature and Deluxe Lions "Made in Japan"; Volttron Lions made entirely of plastic; and all other Volttron products, including Warriors, Gladiators and Vehicles.

December blood drive here will be discontinued

The annual blood drive in December, sponsored by Quad-City Church Women United, will be discontinued this year, Lena Seitzer, president of the organization, said.

The CWU blood donation campaign, which started in 1971, had been highly successful until last year, when there were only 150 donors as compared to over 300 in previous years.

Another problem that developed through the year — and prompted the group to arrive at this decision — was a shortage of volunteers to help with the project, Dolores Vogeler, chairman of the blood drive, said.

Mrs. Vogeler said she is still working with the American Red Cross and its blood drives. She expects the Red Cross to organize a drive here in the spring of 1987.

Cardinals (3-10) at Philadelphia (4-9) KICKOFF: Noon

CARDINALS OFFENSE: Improvement has continued in this area since the return of quarterback Neil Lomax to the starting job. Lomax threw for two touchdowns in the near upset of Washington, including a glimpse of the past—a 42-yard bomb to Roy Green.

Stump Mitchell, playing hurt, put out a valiant effort and amassed almost 100 yards against one of the NFL's stingiest defenses versus the run.

Replacement placekicker Eric Shubert made a 45-yard field goal and is proving to be a solid sub for John Lee.

Lomax still needs to move around the pocket more and take fewer sacks, but overall the Cardinal offense is coming into its own—at last.

CARDINALS DEFENSE: Except for the fact the defense is not coming up with the ball on turnover opportunities, the defense is doing an adequate job.

The lack of any pass rush is what keeps this unit from being an excellent one. Coach Gene Stallings know this is an area that need much work.

PHILADELPHIA OFFENSE: After nearly tripping Seattle two weeks ago, the Eagles accomplished the big upset, scoring 33 points to beat the playoff bound Los Angeles Raiders, Sunday.

Quarterback Randall Cunningham lit up the scoreboard with touchdown passes and was a catalyst in the Raider upset.

Still the Eagles have the worst offensive production in the NFC and could have problems with the St. Louis defense.

PHILADELPHIA DEFENSE: The Eagles gave up 27 points to the Raiders, but prior to that, the defense had given up just over one touchdown per game over the last six games.

Overall, Philadelphia ranks in the middle of the NFC in total defense, but around the goal line, that defense doesn't give much ground.

PREDICTION: Both the Cardinals and the Eagles are on the up swing, playing some of their best football of the season.

This will be a low scoring, knock down-drag out affair. There's been no love lost between Philly and St. Louis over the years.

The Cardinals' chance of winning and sweeping the season series with the Eagles depends squarely on Lomax's ability to get the ball to receivers Roy Green and J.T. Smith.

I've been wrong three straight weeks, twice going against the Big Red, but here goes again.

steel to over 90 percent when it starts up in mid-1987; and another ladle metalurgy station scheduled to go on-stream in the first quarter of 1987, at Great Lakes.

In the ladle metalurgy process, 227 tons of molten steel are transferred from the basic oxygen furnace (BOF) to the metalurgy station in a huge ladle.

After the ladle is lifted into position, argon gas is injected through a lance to stir the liquid steel.

A SAMPLE of the steel is taken to determine its exact chemical composition, and then operators, through the use of sophisticated computer equipment, add exact amounts of alloys to refine the chemical composition.

"Ladle metalurgy permits refinements of the chemical composition of the steel just before it is cast," said Masaharu Ito, National's vice president of technology.

"With these last-minute refinements, we can assure our customers not only the exact chemical composition they need, but exceptionally clean steel, too, with a sulfur content as low as is possible anywhere in the world today."

ITO ADDED that the use of ladle metalurgy provides distinct advantages for manufacturers that require high-quality steels.

"At the ladle metalurgy station, we can also significantly lower the carbon content of the steel, to as low as .002 percent," said Ito.

"This low-sulfur steel is especially important to automotive, canmaking and pipe and tube customers who subject steel to severe drawing and forming stresses in their manufacturing process."

With the ladle metalurgy station, the steel's exact chemical composition can also be controlled more precisely. So, the range of alloys in the steel is restricted to a much narrower band that conforms more closely to light customer specifications, it was explained.

THE STEEL ALSO has fewer impurities after the process, the result of a slag skimming system built into the ladle station, and the argon gas injection system.

"What you have is a high-quality steel that will perform better during the customer's manufacturing operations, helping to improve customer yields during production runs," Ito added.

In February, seven of National's operating and maintenance employees traveled to Japan to train on a similar Nippon Kokan ladle metalurgy station. The training took two weeks.

CONSTRUCTION of the ladle metalurgy station provided 50 construction jobs over a 12-month period.

National Steel is jointly owned by National Intergrupp Inc. of Pittsburgh and Nippon Kokan of Japan.

sion, which included manufacturers and their employees. A record $248,000 was raised for the United Way, exceeding the $234,000 target.

"Area businesses and their staffs participated in the largest amount, $101,320. Richard Suss headed the business division. The objective of $104,000 is drawing nearer as donations are being received from the United Way office. Last year, $85,026 was raised.

"The campaign group including professionals and St. Elizabeth Medical Center raised $69,928, led by Jack Grieves. This division's goal was $66,000.

"Government employees, clubs and private donors gave $57,096, surpassing the $57,000 target. The division leader was Ed Kasten.

Grieves is a Presidential Insurance representative and central-southwest Illinois Rotary governor-elect.

But a little help was needed from both the Granite City and Madison street departments to accomplish the task.

Wayne Angle and Lloyd Cann, employees of the Granite City Street Department, discovered a hydraulic hose was broken on the department's blower truck. The vehicle was necessary to raise the lights to the tree top.

office requested a competency hearing for Bruce.

A record of Bruce's examination by Dr. Lawrence Taliana, a psychiatrist from Edwardsville, went to Roman on Wednesday. Results will be rendered at a hearing to be set during the next few weeks, Roman said.

Accused in the April 30 slayings of Granite City residents Carl and Susan Hoffman, Bruce put his death-penned defense in the hands of Hermann because he said he trusts her.

"She's the only shot I've got," he said.

are closed to save on the electrical costs of the pumping.

Greathouse said he will turn the pumps off and open the gates on Sunday, when the river stage is expected to fall below 19.5 feet.

"If I empty water in the canal now, it will cost me a lot of money, Sunday, I'll open it up for nothing," Greathouse said.

He said he is not concerned with the lake level.

"I DON'T THINK there is such a thing as too high," for Horseshoe Lake, Greathouse said.

"I want the lake down to a minimum level also, but not at my expense," Greathouse said.

The state owns the lake, which is part of a state park.

Greathouse said he does not take Nichols' warnings seriously.

"He (Nichols) does this all the time," Greathouse said.

ON FRIDAY, the National Weather Service was predicting rain or snow on Sunday and Monday.

When asked about the prediction, Greathouse said, "No problem."

Illustrated Theater will perform here

The Illustrated Theater of Chicago is the December performing artist offering of the Madison County Arts Council. Six performances of "Christmas Puddings and Pies" by the theater troupe have been scheduled on Dec. 8 and 9 at six schools in Madison County.

They will perform on Dec. 8 at Mitchell School in the Granite City district, at Molden Elementary School in Troy and at Troy Primary School, and on Dec. 9 at Lewis and Clark Elementary School in Wood River, Evangelical School in Godfrey, and Cottage Hills Elementary School in Bethalto.

"Christmas Puddings and Pies" is the story of Scrooge G. Pantalone, a miser who won't part with his money for the worthiest cause. Using mime, mask and colorful characters, the players provide adventure and merriment in their efforts to teach Pantalone the true spirit of Christmas.

Each member of the Illustrated Theater troupe is a professional educator as well as performer; they provide curriculum materials to schools in preparation for their appearance. The goal is to inspire audiences, drawing them in to experience the joy of stories told in unusual ways.
